1st we will be talking about double entendres
IF you don't know what that is it is a word or phrase that is open to two interpretations.

In the song "The Lakes" she says "tell me what my words are worth" this references Wordsworth who was a poet who lived in the Lake district

DBATC

In the song ~~dress~~ she ~~says~~ says "Idress to kill my time" this has two meanings 1) being idress to kill / killing time prinus

"The moon is high like your friends were the night that we first met"

In Mr. Perfectly Fine Taylor says "Some day maybe you'll miss me but by then you'll ~~be~~ be Mr. too late" translate to missed her

END

~~now that brings us to the end~~

You r probably wondering Is it over now? and yes it is! Thanks for listening I hope we don't have bad blood

now I'll try to start wrapping it soon but I still have a blank space for more of Swift's word play. So shake it off ~~out~~ because the next word play is from the song Mr Perfectly Fine →

② Her lyrics just never go out of style!
Alright I'm going to try to finish this up as swiftly as I can.

This next word play is found in the song
"The Laces"

Speak Now if you want to hear one more TSwift lyric with word play. Well since you guys can't answer that I will!
You may be ~~too~~ thinking I'm the Anti hero for making you sit through another example but that's just Karma for listening to my podcast!

This next one is found in Cornelia Street where she says "but then you called, showed your hand")

This refers to a phone call that she talks about in the line prior but it also refers to playing a card game

I've always loved Taylor Swift's music Idk its always just felt as if it was TAYlored to ~~opps~~ For me specifically.

You may know ~~opps~~ Taylor Swift because of her big repuTAYion! I know your excited but You Need to Calm down and get Ready for it. Because if you love word play by Taylor Swift then You Belong with me on this podcast.

MY Tear Ricoste

"If I'm dead to you why are you at the wake"
- wake refers to the funeral but it also plays on water behind a ship seeing as the next lyric is "so the battle ships will sink beneath the waves"

WOW she is so clever! Never in my wildest dreams would I have been able to write something like that

Paper rings she writes

"I'm with you even if it makes me blue which takes me back to the color that we painted your brother's walls"

this has a double meaning, blue means sad and it refers to the memory of painting

Taylor is a MasterMind! we aren't <sup>the walls</sup> out of the woods yet! our next lyric is from "Cowboy like Me" it says

"now you hang from my hips like the gardens of Babylon" Babylon can be interpreted as bubble on since this person is "hanging from her hips"

Now it's
